October 2013 is...

JANE AUSTEN MONTH

In honor of the 200th anniversary of the publication of Pride and Prejudice, STC is proud to present a classic stage adaptation of the novel and host a series of interactive experiences based on real activities from the period in which the novel is set.

Pride and Prejudice will play from Oct. 2nd to Oct 27th. Patrons who have purchased a ticket to any of the 28 regularly scheduled performances are cordially invited to attend any of the added Jane Austen Month Experiences as our guest.

JANE AUSTEN MONTH EVENTS

Keynote Speaker David H. Bell

Sat. Oct 5 @ 4:30pm

Mr. Bell is a professor emeritus from Sac State University. He is considered the leading Austen authority in Sacramento. He will speak on all things Austen, from her upbringing, to societal norms in her era, and how her works impacted society.

Q&A session moderated by STC's Michael Laun to follow.

Costume Conversations with Jessica

Sat. Oct 12 @ 4:30pm

Actors from our production will model period costumes as STC costume designer Jessica Minnihan discusses various aspects of Regency Dress.

Patrons are encouraged to arrive in their own period attire, with a lovely prize awarded for the most authentic costume.

Afternoon "High" Tea

Sat. Oct 19 @ 4:30pm

Starting in the 18th Century, Afternoon Tea was a very fashionable and very fun activity. We invite you to enjoy "High" Tea with us from the pleasure of the past. Experienced in the Regency era.

Please note for this event only, a nominal fee of $10 for food and catering services will apply.

Dancing with Mr. Darcy

Sat. Oct 26 @ 4:30pm

English Country Dancing was a popular form of entertainment during Austen's time. Join us on the Mainstage to learn steps seen in the dance sequences from STC's production.

Be a part of the Pride and Prejudice festivities and dance with your favorite characters from the show.
